

Abortion Madness

Abortion is now the number one cause of death in the world.

Barbara Buzzard

Abortion is not about choice. It's about escaping the consequences of that choice — by taking all choice away from another human being. Or as Randy Alcorn puts it: it's not about choice — it's about what that choice is. Just imagine a healthy about-to-be-born-9 mo. old baby, at risk of losing his or her life because its mother and its doctor and its Governor believe it is absolutely permissible to take that child's life. Can there be any more selfish, cruel or barbaric action? Why does a toddler have more of a right to life than a pre-born baby?

I have been incensed by the abortion horror for years, our own holocaust happening under our noses. But I have also been both puzzled and mortified in the extreme that there hasn't been public outrage and that it has been impossible to rouse people to action. Thankfully and mercifully there has been outrage this past weekend. As a nation we have been utterly deceived as to the absolute horror of what has been going on. Distorted thinking has brought about a dark and deadly barbarity.

Vile and Corrupt

I am appalled by the ignorance I am finding and also the fact that people just don't want to know. The idea that abortion is the lesser of two evils is grotesque to me and it is hugely prevalent. As a society we have become used to the idea that if you don't want a child—it is acceptable to kill it. The old rule—as long as it hasn't been born has now been changed. It is now permissible to do away with infants! Somehow infanticide has become tolerable! How is it that we have come to accept the elimination of millions of children? Stand to Reason, Shining Light into Dark Corners gives the history behind the Roe v. Wade ruling, detailing the admittedly vile and corrupt mindsets of the movers and shakers behind this legislation that desensitized us to killing. I think it is terribly important to understand how it all went wrong.

Our Culture of Death

Hasn't the church overall been a huge part of the problem? They have committed the sin of silence for over 43 years. This would fall under the umbrella of Burke's thought that: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing." I exempt the Catholic Church from this criticism as they seem to have led the way and have stood their ground in a bold way. The end result: 75% of those having abortions identify themselves as Christian. They have not been taught, challenged, schooled in the way of the cross vs. the way of the world. Which is to say that good people have succumbed to the irrational logic of killing the innocent victim in a pregnancy caused by rape. Parents and grandparents have been so swayed by abortionist false logic that they assent to killing. The Scriptures teach unequivocally the sanctity of life. How can 75% of those having abortions choose this route and live with their consciences? They are being severely wronged by their teachers/pastors and abandoned to the culture of death they have inherited, even from the church.

False Narrative

As I apportion blame to the church, so I apportion it individually—to my own generation who just don't want to know and don't want to get involved. Only if one has read widely and investigated is one likely to know the whole truth. (Dr. Bernard Nathanson made up and told and sold those lies. He was responsible for the deceit in the ‘abortion must be legalized for the sake of those raped and involved in incest’ false narrative. He has utterly repented and views his role in the abortion industry as nothing short of demonic.

My required reading list would firstly include Randy Alcorn’s Pro-Life Answers to Pro-Choice Arguments. You will see how logic has been hijacked by the abortionist lobby. Every pastor/teacher in the land should have read if not memorized this book!

Secondly, Alcorn’s Why Pro-Life? I will step out even further here and say that every person calling him/herself a Christian must read this. (How do you know when the advice in this book will be needed to save a life?) Thirdly, The Hand of God, A Journey from Death to Life by the Abortion Doctor Who Changed His Mind, Dr. Bernard Nathanson. (Also see his Confessions of an Ex-Abortionist (online). And fourthly, We Choose Life, Authentic Stories, Dave Sterrett.

Honestly, you will do yourself a favor by coming to terms with the false logic at work, by understanding where the battle lies, and how to combat the false narrative that prevails.

In the Sterrett book there are marvelous true stories of abortion workers, Drs., and pro-abortion advocates who, upon meeting truth, changed their positions. One story involved a 15 min. conversation about what ultrasounds actually show and the description of how a baby’s mouth opened in an attempt to scream as it was being dismembered (view The Silent Scream on youtube and be changed).

A Human Rights Issue — And the Worst Violation in History

This is so not a women’s issue. There are actually grief support groups for men who are eaten up with guilt and agony. This is one man’s account: “Even for a man, abortion is not something that’s easy to deal with — you never really get over it. To this day, over twenty years later, when I hear the word ‘abortion’ it’s piercing to my ears and hurts like a high-pitched screeching sound. I cringe and quickly want to rid it from my mind...Still, my own healing process has been slow and long and will most likely never be complete because there are still emotional scars that will remain as long as I live. Sin always has a price. Someone has wisely said, ‘Sin will take you further than you want to go, keep you longer than you want to stay, and cost you more than you want to pay.’” This is a human rights issue and probably the worst violation of human rights in all history. The unborn are human beings just like you and me. That is why it is wrong to kill them.

It is past time to tell ourselves the truth. Begin by watching Dr. Anthony Levatino’s testimony on youtube. He did 1,200 abortions but tells Congress to ban them. Please allow your hearts to be broken as this murderous rampage continues its way throughout our society. Please join me in becoming an activist for life and become a cog in this lifesaving endeavor. The killing must stop. And again I employ Randy Alcorn’s logic: abortion is always wrong because it is always killing. Be a voice for the voiceless and a defender of the defenseless.

Dare we ignore Jesus when he says: I tell you the truth, when you refused to help the least of these...you were refusing to help me” (Matt. 25:45, NLT)?
